

Be In the Know... Your El Dorado County Charter

What is a county charter?

The California Constitution recognizes two types of counties: general law counties and charter counties. General law counties adhere to state law when it comes to the number and duties of county elected officials. Charter counties, on the other hand, have a limited degree of "home rule" authority that may provide for the election, compensation, terms, removal, and salary of the governing board; for the election or appointment (except the sheriff, district attorney, and assessor who must be elected), compensation, terms, and removal of all county officers; for the powers and duties of all officers; and for consolidation and segregation of county offices. A charter does not give county officials extra authority over state and federal laws, local regulations, revenue-raising abilities, budgetary decisions, or intergovernmental relations.

El Dorado County Charter Preamble

The El Dorado County Charter provides a Preamble as follows:

We, the people of El Dorado County, adopt the charter to provide a county government that is responsive to the public safety, infrastructure, and other appropriate needs as to be provided by county government in a democratic and just manner. The people expect that the business of the county will be conducted using equitable methods and that the results shall benefit no individual or group(s) of individuals to the detriment of the people.

What is the purpose of the Charter Review Committee?

The Charter Review Committee is established by the Board of Supervisors (Board) at least once every 5 years. The committee must convene at least two public hearings (meetings) and make recommendations for amendments to or revisions of the charter to the Board. The Board may provide the committee with charter topics to be reviewed and the committee may choose to review and make recommendations for updates to any portion of the charter.
