Why do you seek appointment? As a specialist in children's health, I seek appointment to further advocate for the needs of children. I am particularly interested in the First Five Commission because I feel that if our children's needs are met early through our communities, they will be better able to thrive in their school aged years which will make them more likely to be productive learners, and healthier, happier adults. I have spent much of the last 10 year advocating for my patients at the local level through our health system, and am interested in broadening that advocacy to the county level so that I may make a larger impact for more children, but also so that I can help coordinate and share information about resources in my community on the South Shore.
Additional Information Since the COVID pandemic, I have developed a strong relationship with the leadership at our school district, which led me to also join the American Academy of Pediatrics Northern CA Chapter Committee on Development and Behavioral Pediatrics and School Health. I believe that being engaged in these conversations at the local and regional level will be helpful in my role as a First Five Commissioner.
