Whereas, one El Dorado County resident, Moseley Collins, has committed himself to fighting hunger and partnering with the community to pack hundreds of thousands of meals, and

Whereas, Moseley Collins has covered the cost of 450,000 meals over the last three years in partnership with local residents as part of Feed My Starving Children MobilePacks for children in need around the world and, by covering the cost, has allowed thousands of volunteers to pack meals and become a part of the international effort to fight hunger, and

Whereas, these Feed My Starving Children meals are scientifically designed to bring malnourished children back to good health and literally save the lives of children in need, and
