Dear Mr. Pierson:

Constellation Justice Systems Inc (CJS), a CourtView Justice Solutions Inc company, has embarked on the development of the next generation of our attorney case management systems which are based on our JWorks web-based service oriented architecture framework. This new offering is tentatively called "JWorks Attorney CM" and will be the successor to our successful DAMION Attorney Case Management solution.

The new offering will have many of the new features and capabilities that we have discussed over the years, and we are excited to begin this new era for the users of our DAMION product suite. We are eager to have some of our most trusted and experienced customers as an integral part of this important initiative.

As part of our development effort, we are inviting a group of select customers to become members of a Consortium to partner with us in the design, development, testing and implementation of the new JWorks Attorney CM offering. It is with pleasure that we are inviting your organization to be a member of this JWorks Attorney CM Consortium. Your membership in the Consortium can provide many benefits including:

- Involvement in the functional design and planning process
- Ability to influence the product direction, capability, and functionality
- Opportunity to be one of the first to migrate from the DAMION client server technology to the new web-based JWorks Attorney CM technology
- Added special attention and support during the migration process
- First to have access to the new capabilities, at a reduced price, including:
  - Digital Dashboard
  - Differentiated Case Management (DCM)
  - Workflow and Business Rules management engine

All existing users of DAMION that wish to migrate to JWorks Attorney CM will need to license this next generation product, which will deliver the new capabilities noted earlier and includes a migration of your existing licensed DAMION functionality to JWorks Attorney CM. As a Consortium member, your organization will receive special pricing as noted in the attached proposal. Only customers accepting this invitation and agreeing to be a member of the Consortium will be granted this special pricing discount and the additional migration assistance.

Consortium members will have reasonable responsibilities, including:

- Assigning a JWorks migration team from your organization and naming a single point of contact
- Attending Consortium meetings and working sessions (sessions may be on your site, at a central site, or conducted over the web)
- Providing feature, function and capability recommendations and input
- Testing and providing feedback on JWorks Attorney CM prototypes and releases
- Testing and reviewing the results of DAMION to JWorks migration tools
- Other as further defined jointly by CJS and the Consortium members

This is an exciting time for CJS and our DAMION customers to move to our newest technology and participate in the next generation of our attorney case management solutions. We hope that you see the value and importance of this opportunity and accept our invitation to be a select member of our Consortium.

Please contact me at 651-762-1034 or via email at steve.robichaud@courtview.com to accept our invitation or to ask questions. Thank you for considering this important opportunity.

Sincerely,

Steve Robichaud

Overview

Because of your team's interest, expertise and our past success together, CourtView Justice Solutions Inc (CJS) is pleased to offer your organization the opportunity to join a consortium of DAMION Prosecutor and Public Defender customers sponsoring the development of a fully web architected attorney case management solution, JWorks Attorney CM™.

The Need

There are several compelling forces that have prompted the development of JWorks:

Technology

Over the past several years, the development tools used to create Internet-ready software applications have substantially matured. When combined with the ready availability of high-speed Internet access, continual improvements in hardware, and the relatively low cost of infrastructure, conditions were right for the development of our next generation solution.

Market Forces

Driven primarily by budgetary constraints, solutions that require less administrative support have become more desirable. Web-architected solutions do not require individual client software loaded on users' workstations (including plug-ins), offering a truly "thin" client or "zero footprint" client. Moreover, since most users are familiar with Web browsers, JWorks will have a familiar "look and feel."

Customer Demand

Many offices and organizations insist on staying abreast of the latest "cutting edge" technology. Driven by the demands of internal IT departments, these organizations are looking for the "next generation" of enterprise software solutions to carry them into the foreseeable future.

Initial development has begun and, we have assigned some of most experienced personnel to spearhead this effort.

The Approach

As a member of the product Consortium, your organization can derive the following direct benefits:

- Direct influence on the features, functionality, and development of JWorks Attorney CM
- Involvement in the functional design and planning process
- Advanced review of all new features and technology capabilities
- Full licensing for the production version of JWorks Attorney CM, which is incorporated into the cost of sponsorship and represents a fraction of the full list price

We are inviting eight or fewer clients to be part of this Consortium and are asking for your commitment by October 14, 2011 so that we may begin. In exchange for your input and willingness to participate, CJS is offering a substantial discount on new product prices.

The Plan

While the Consortium members and CJS will finalize several logistical and administrative items after the formation of the group, the following points are planned (or are in progress) at this point:

- Prioritized migration and/or development of DAMION features within the JWorks framework;
- Monthly status calls will begin as soon as possible, and will take place approximately monthly and according to an agreed and published schedule
- On-site meetings, if necessary, may take place every four-six months in a designated location
- A web forum for interaction between the Consortium members and CJS regarding feedback, suggestions, development plans, etc
- JWorks Attorney CM will be available for review and usage in a sandbox via the Internet for each Consortium member

Based on the level of customer involvement, this new product is targeted for completion in 2012.

Responsibilities of Consortium Members

Here are some of the responsibilities of the participating organizations.

Kick-off Meeting

Participate in the kick-off conference call, which CJS will schedule as soon as possible.

Regular Status Calls

On a regular basis, CJS will convene “design and progress meetings” via conventional teleconference call or WebEx® conference. During these sessions, CJS will conduct a functional review of the system and present functional design issues. Consortium members will have the responsibility and opportunity to provide feedback on the new product. CJS will also review the overall status of the project and discuss upcoming development plans.

On-site Reviews

Every four-six months, CJS will conduct an on-site review at a designated location. Consortium members will be encouraged to participate in these reviews in person. Issues pertaining to the design, usability, and technology will be discussed during these sessions. CJS will also review the overall status of the project and discuss upcoming development plans and milestones.

Feedback and Testing

Consortium members will provide feedback pertaining to design, usability, and technology within reasonable time frames according to the project plan.

Beta Evaluation

Upon completion of the principal development and testing of the proposed application (“alpha” testing), Consortium members may conduct field tests of the system. “Beta” code will be deployed in a test environment that enables Consortium members to emulate a “production” setting. Beta testing will ultimately determine the operational effectiveness of the application in terms of its functionality, usability, and performance. CJS will make all necessary test-related revisions in preparation for the first production release of the application.

Consortium Member Fees

Consortium membership fees are based on your organization's size using our existing named user pricing structure and the number of existing licensed modules. Consortium Members will receive discounts on the software license and a discount on implementation services.

Consortium Member Fees

As with our tradition and per standing agreements, existing licensed DAMION modules will be delivered under the new JWorks architecture with no additional license fees. However existing licensed DAMION modules will be renamed under the new JWorks branding and identity. In addition to your existing licensed modules, a license for the JWorks Enhancement Module will be necessary to make the migration from DAMION to JWorks Attorney CM. The Pricing shown on the following page contains a substantial discount over the price for which the module will sell when complete and commercially available.

Payment Schedule

CJS will structure a payment schedule as follows:

- The first year's annual maintenance will be due by the Consortium start date of July 1, 2011 and prorated through December 31, 2011.
- The license fees will be due upon the delivery of the beta version.
- Services will be invoiced monthly in arrears as delivered. Please note these are implementation services (not development services) and will not begin until you choose to begin your implementation.

The JWorks Attorney CM Consortium is moving forward and beginning soon. To participate, CJS needs to receive this signed Intent to Proceed by October 14, 2011.
