These terms govern the sale of goods and services supplied by Western Systems. Differing terms from Buyer in any purchase order or written communication shall not be binding on Western Systems absent its written agreement to any such terms. FOB Destination and FOB Destination, Prepay & Add terms as quoted imply that the customer will be available to receive material deliveries. Any repeated delivery attempts, trucking reroutes, enroute cancellations or product factory returns which incur additional shipping costs shall be billed to the purchaser.

This quote is based on the current prices being paid by Western Systems for parts and components. It assumes delivery within a normal time frame after acceptance (in any case within 90 days). If delivery is delayed or postponed beyond normal delivery time frames at no fault of Western Systems, it reserves the right to adjust the pricing based on its estimate of increased costs and expenses resulting from the delay, unless contractually obligated otherwise or contrary to applicable law.

Taxes/Fees: Unless current resale certificate is on file with Western Systems, purchaser shall be responsible for all tariffs, duties, sales or use taxes in addition to the quoted prices herein. Any taxes listed are estimated totals and should be verified against local requirements.

Western Systems reserves the right to hold goods until purchaser balances their account.

Western Systems will not be subject to any project retainage of any kind. Material purchases are due and payable upon receipt. Unpaid balances will be subject to Non-Payment Fees.

Collections: Upon Buyer default of these terms, Western Systems may, in addition to any other rights or remedies at contract or law, declare the entire balance of purchaser's account immediately due and payable. If unpaid balance is referred for collections, Buyer agrees to pay Western Systems, to the extent permitted by law, reasonable attorney fees in addition to all damages otherwise available, plus any court costs or expenses incurred by Western Systems, plus any finance charges accrued on any unpaid balance owed by Purchaser.
