To whom it may concern:

I am writing to ask that the Olivo family be permitted to have Wine events at their beautiful estate in Cameron Park, California. I myself have attended a couple of these events and was very pleased and had a very nice time, great wine and food! The events that I attended had middle aged to older people there, there was nothing that got out of hand like the noise level or loud obnoxious people. Nothing like that ever happened, it was very calm and enjoyable. Nello Olivo and his wife Danica are wonderful people and you can tell they love hosting these events, they are very warm and friendly people. Also, their Ranch/Vineyard is very spacious so I can't imagine that events held there would ever bother anyone living around the area. They have plenty of parking right on their property also.

Sincerely,

Deborah A. Madden
