HR Commission Application
Matthew Cardozo
Item #12

I do not have previous experience that directly relates to the stated purposes of this commission but I have worked in a globally diverse workplace for most of my adult life. This experience has opened me up to a wide range of belief structures, experiences and perspectives. I believe the greatest asset I can bring to this commission is an ability to think outside my own experiences and a determination to familiarize myself with the circumstances and factors that drive the experiences of others. I believe, possibly now more than ever, that we need to focus on working together to bridge the gaps between us and to strengthen our communities with ideas and convictions that go beyond our own biases.
