Subject: Commitment for Hemp cultivation in El Dorado County
To: BOSFOUR@EDCGOV.US <BOSFOUR@edcgov.us>

Good morning Supervisor Parlin,

As a current resident of El Dorado County, I want to add my name to the list of supporters of Hemp cultivation as a very valuable agricultural product that will add a wide range of positive economic benefits and I encourage the Board of Supervisors to maintain it's support as well. I believe the Board's vision of Hemp as a new agricultural opportunity in the county was correct and time will validate your efforts.

The addition of Hemp production to the Counties economic base will create direct and ancillary employment, increase tax revenue, and bring future business ventures not even contemplated today. Hemp production will provide property owners options to subdivision development and actually create legacy farms much like apples orchards and grape vineyards. Much of the Counties soils are suitable for growing Hemp and unlike other agricultural crops can be sustainably cultivated.

As humans, change is often challenging and stressful. As citizens of this County, we rely on your skill to fairly evaluate the current resistance to Hemp farming in the Gold Hill area. El Dorado County has a long history of changes from mining, timber, cattle ranching, wineries and housing. The cultivation of Hemp will be seen as yet one more change that was positive.

Thank you very much.

Sincerely,

Daniel Ferreira.
