Dear County Board of Supervisors -

I am a resident of Placerville and have lived in El Dorado County for 40 years. Over the years I have been actively engaged in civic activities that promote the health and welfare of our community. I love El Dorado County and have observed a deterioration of the qualities of inclusiveness and kindness that I have most appreciated.

With this email I am requesting that you pull the Item No. 6 from the Consent Calendar. That is the appointment of Tracy Doyle to the Human Rights Commission for our County. The appointment is being made by Supervisor Turnboo.

The Human Rights Commission was developed to help bring appreciation of diversity into our County and to engender respect among fellow human beings. I am all for that. When I look at Tracy Doyle's application for this position, I see that she has written it such that it sounds appropriate. However, her social media record shows a very different story. I have kept several screen shots of her divisive and anti-government stances on various subjects including direct hits at our own County/City officials. I can share these with you if you request them.

I am not questioning Tracy's right to be who she is, but I do question Turnboo's judgement in appointing someone such as Tracy to a commission that should be promoting just the opposite of what her actions indicate.

I urge the Board to remove this item from the Consent Calendar and work to develop a good form of vetting - which should include a social media review - before appointments are confirmed.

Thank you for your consideration of this very important matter;
