Supervisors:

Please vote no on the appointment of Sue Taylor to the Planning Commission. Planning Commissioners should be members of the community with judgment about balancing the needs for land use development and community externality prevention.

Sue Taylor is the leader of the NIMB's in El Dorado County. To my knowledge I have never seen her support any project in the county. It is pointless to appoint her to the Planning Commission where she's going to vote against every project and/or she will try to impose clever poison pill conditions on permits.

Having Sue Taylor on the Planning Commission will guarantee a continuation of contentious meetings and slow decision making.

Please appoint Planning Commissioners that are open-minded about projects and their impacts.

Sue Taylor and her organization are frequent litigants against the county land use policies. Her litigation would require her, ethically if not legally, to recuse herself on any general plan land use decisions.

Thank you for your assistance in this matter.

Planning commissioners are critical to future viability of our county. It is our belief that the individuals serving as commissioners must be equipped to make fair and balanced decisions that represent the big picture and future of Eldorado County. It is imperative that those serving be able to consider all sides of any issue. We are concerned that if

Ms. Taylor is appointed they will not be able to do so. A record of litigation, a personal agenda and appearances / comments at board meetings has demonstrated a narrow unyielding vision for our county. We ask the board to continue looking for the appropriate voice of reason and intellect that will represent all.
