DISCUSSION / BACKGROUND

South Lake Tahoe residents have long had access to cable television programming from Sacramento, providing critical emergency information, weather, news and election results that impact them. In June 2018, Charter Communications removed KCRA-3 from its offerings, leaving South Lake Tahoe residents with no California-based news channels.

The Federal Communications Commission (FCC) places the City of South Lake Tahoe in the Reno, NV Designated Market Area (DMA), and Charter Communications is not required to carry programming outside that DMA.

Only commercial broadcast TV stations and cable systems can file a Market Modification Petition with the FCC, which is why CAO staff is recommending El Dorado County and City of South Lake Tahoe elected officials request Charter Communications petition the FCC for a change in DMA to more accurately reflect that South Lake Tahoe is in California and should be provided with critical California news.

ALTERNATIVES

The Board could choose to not approve the letter, and no request from the County for a Market

Modification Petition would be sent to Charter Communications.
