DISCUSSION / BACKGROUND

Pacific Gas & Electric (PG&E), the electrical power provider for the County's West Slope, implemented its "Public Safety Power Shutoff" policy in 2019. This policy provides for de-energization of PG&E's service areas when gusty winds and dry conditions combine with a high fire risk. In 2019, El Dorado County experienced four multiple-day power shutoffs, some of which affected more than 50,000 customers within the County.

The primary purpose of this presentation is to allow PG&E to share progress on the work they have done to prevent wildfires and reduce Public Safety Power Shutoff events.
